MULTI-CULTURAL FESTIVAL

SATURDAY 13th JUNE 1987

This Saturday, 13 June, sees the Multi cultural Festival taking place at the Loughborough Students' Union building. The day's activities from 12 - 6 p.m. are free with the evening entertainment costing just £2.00 (waged), £1.00 (unwaged and students). Included in the line up are Hope Augustus, Bengamin Zephaniah, local band the Government plus a variety of cultural music, poetry, folk, jazz and blues. There will also be an excellent sound system and a variety of speakers from both South Africa and Namibia plus a whole lot more from face painting, juggling and stilt walking, to exhibitions, food stalls and Yoga.

The aim of this BENEFIT AGAINST APARTHEID is to promote a greater understanding of a Multi cultural Britain with artists from many different cultural backgrounds taking part.

The proceeds from the day are to go to buy SWAPO medical kits for Namibia, and to support Mozambique famine relief. It's also proposed to give financial aid to the Azanian Culture Centre in Johannesburg, enabling black South Africans to perform overseas. This communication is even more important nowadays given the South African government's ban on media coverage.

In this country we see racism every day, but within south Africa it is enshrined within laws that openly oppress black people every minute of the day.

Through this festival, we can have a great time whilst clearly making our stand against Apartheid.

- Come and Join us on Saturday - midday onwards.

'NEIGHBOURS'

CONTROVERSY!!

The UGM of Monday was sadly inquorate. Even the contoversy of a subject like 'Neighbours' coundn't get the members in, still we tried. And who was responsible for the Teletext message on the stage - outrageous, what a bunch of lefties the Executive are.

the meeting will be reconvened on Monday the 15th, and thus will be the last UGM of the year, so come on down. It's you last chance to slag off the Executive for being an anti-democratic left wing clique only interested in their own political ambitions. so make it quorate.

ERASURE PULL OUT!!

The Erasure concert planned for 26 June has been cancelled. The band's whole tour has been pulled, because they are going to be spending June and July doing television shows in Europe. We at ENTS can only apologise for this, and say that refunds are available between 12.30 p.m. and two weekdays from the ENTS office upon receipt of a ticket.

You can't be as disappointed as we are!!!

WELL DONE 'ENTS'

Dear Simon,

I feel I must congratulate Martin Tibbetts, John Palmer and the ENTS Committee for one of the best nights I've had at the Union for donkeys. Martin Stephenson and the Daintees were quite simply superb!! I would gladly sell my house and all its contents to see them but I only had to pay £3!! It's a shame only a couple of hundred took the opportunity to check them out, but look out for them in the future.

Well done again ENTS!!
